

MEDIA SCAN

Tourism Industry Association of Nova Scotia

Canadian Travel Media set to gather in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia

Canada's largest and only Canadian Travel Media Association is set to gather in person, for the first time since 2019, June 22-26, in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. 200 members of the Travel Media Association of Canada (TMAC) will meet within, and experience, Southwest Nova Scotia in this much anticipated event that will showcase and celebrate this corner of Canada.

Nova Scotia, Louisiana Sign Memorandum of Understanding

Nova Scotia and Louisiana will work together and celebrate their shared culture through a new memorandum of understanding (MOU). Acadian Affairs and Francophonie Minister Colton LeBlanc joined Louisiana's Lt.-Gov. William H. Nungesser in Baton Rouge, June 16, to celebrate the partnership.

Sears & Thomson List South Shore Haven

Sean Sears and wife Barbara Thomson are looking to sell Petite Riviere Vineyards, a place of healing for the couple when they bought it 12 years ago.

10 takeaways from the Mun. of Argyle's new net-zero admin building, a 1st in Canada

Although the building opened last year, the Municipality of Argyle in Yarmouth County held its official ribbon cutting for its new administration building on June 14. Powered by a solar garden, it is the first net-zero municipal building in Canada.

Houston government won't disclose passenger numbers for the Cat ferry

The Houston government is facing criticism for something it accused the previous government of doing — not disclosing enough information about the Cat ferry.

Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame announces new inductees

The Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame has announced its 2022 induction class. The list includes some well-known Nova Scotia athletes, teams, coaches and builders.

How N.S. Coastal Protection Act could impact future development

Anyone spending time on the coast lately has seen it — landowners infilling ocean or wetland to create more space along the shoreline.

Nova Scotia able to welcome hundreds more immigrants this year

The Nova Scotia government has announced a huge jump in the number of allocations to the provincial nominee and Atlantic immigration programs.

Nominations open for Cape Breton excellence in business awards

The Cape Breton Regional Chamber of Commerce is now accepting nominations for the 32nd Excellence in Business Awards. The 12 award categories this year are business of the year, new business of the year, Schwartz family business person of the year, Jack Yazer young entrepreneur of the year and Beyond Borders exporter of the year.

